GP Obstetrician

Pioneer Health Albany is looking to recruit a GP Obstetrician to join our dynamic practice, in the beautiful coastal city of Albany.

The practice provides a full range of general practice services including obstetrics, skin surgery, Aboriginal health and youth mental health clinics.

Our doctors also provide significant services to the local hospital via Visiting Medical Practitioner (VMP) arrangements. Our practice stands out as having a friendly, supportive team, striving for excellence in patient care. We utilise the latest equipment and systems to deliver best practice care.

We have an experienced GP Obstetrician team who work closely together to support each other and provide exceptional patient care.

We are a dynamic team working in a growing practice. Our doctors are supported by practice nurses, management and clerical staff all providing high quality care to our patients.

Pioneer Health Albany has a focus on education and teaching, we actively support the registrar training program, rural clinical school and student attachments.

We are seeking to grow our obstetric team, offering a mixture of GP and obstetric work.

Albany has District of Workforce Shortage status and is therefore able to provide long term options to interested GP obstetricians.
